Trusted Brand for Generations
Since 1908

Amoy Canning, a fourth-generation 116-year-old family-run company, was founded in 1908 in Xiamen by first-generation founder, Mr Ng Teng Guan. The company's first product was a hygienic home-made soya sauce recipe developed by Mr Ng Teng Guan for his family and friends with food safety as his priority after the passing of his 5th son from typhoid. The homemade soya sauce led to the founding of the company.

In 1913, Amoy Canning set up a canning factory in Xiamen before gradually expanding and setting up another three factories in Fujian, China. Over the years, the company has grown and established a regional presence over the globe. In 1938, Amoy Canning's head office was relocated to Hong Kong because of the war in China. In 1951, a factory was set up in Singapore. In 1955, a factory was set up in Malaysia and an Australian office in 1994.

Over the years, Amoy Canning has upheld Mr Ng Teng Guan's commitment to produce high-quality and safe-to-consume products and Amoy Canning's products have garnered a reputation for producing high-quality products for generations.
