Creating Great Food Experience

Jew Kit was founded by Mr Teo Jew Kit, an authentic Hainanese, who started a small stall to serve Hainanese Chicken Rice in 1992.

Jew Kit Hainanese Chicken Rice is one of Singapore's most-renowned Hainanese Chicken Rice stall. Early Hainanese settlers worked in kitchens, and acquired a wealth of knowledge and experience which they could infuse into their cuisines.

One of these dishes – the humble steamed chicken was a staple during the Lunar New Year. The Chinese word for chicken, pronounced 'ji', is a homophone for prosperity and this is exactly what makes it such a welcoming dish at reunion dinners.

Having served up the classic Hainanese chicken rice for more than two decades, Jew Kit's philosophy has always been to create great food experience for all customers.

In addition to using their authentic chicken rice recipe, Jew Kit is constantly innovating and creating a variety of dishes from old classics, and improving on taste to satisfy customers' palates.
